THE INDIAN WAR.

GENERAL MERRITT REACHES LIEUTENANT PAYNE'S CAMP.

The Battle of Milk River----Indian Strategy---Thornburg's Command Narrowly Escapes Annihilation.

CHEYENNE, Oct. 8.—The following was received early this morning from Major Gillis at Rawlins: "A Rawlins mail carrier is just in. He reports that Merritt reached Payne's command on Monday afternoon after a severe fight, killing thirty-seven Indians. He found them (Payne's command) all right. A colored cavalry company joined Payne last Friday night, losing all their horses but two in doing so. The mail carrier knows nothing about the condition of the officers and men. The companies of the Fourteenth regiment were at least twenty-four hours behind Merritt's command. GILLIS."

CHEYENNE, Oct. 8.—A courier from the front brings the following from the officers with Payne's command:

BATTLE FIELD, MILK RIVER, Oct. 3, 6 P. M.—A courier will leave some time to-night with despatches if possible. The Indians still surround us and pour in an effective fire from the commanding bluffs at a distance of five or six hundred yards, having a cross fire upon our position, which position was chosen hastily on the first day of the fight. All our horses and all but twelve mules have been killed. We sheltered them as best we could with wagons, but to no purpose. Captain Dodge and Lieutenant Hughes with Company D, Ninth cavalry come to our rescue yesterday morning at day break, after a forced night march of thirty-five miles from Bear River.

CHEER UPON CHEER

rent the air from our trenches when it was ascertained who were coming. A lull in the firing enabled them to come in and shelter their horses as well as possible, taking to fortifications quickly, when the attack redoubled its fury. Had the heights been accessible Captain Dodge would have charged them with his company while we covered him from our rifle-pits, but this being utterly impossible, the ascent being nearly perpendicular, all we could do during the day was to keep a good lookout from our loop holes and return fire when any Indian showed his head. This, however, was a very rare occurrence as the Indians have rifle pits and loop-holes. Before dark every horse but three of Captain Dodge's command was shot down. A very fortunate thing for us has been that the Indians have left us unmolested at night with the exception of an occasional shot to make us scatter to our pits.'

We have been able at a great risk to haul off our dead animals every night, otherwise the stench would be intolerable. A rally is made every night for water at a distance of two hundred yards from our intrenchments. Night before last private Erser of Company F was shot in the face while out with a party after water. The Indians were and were driven off by a volley from the guard in the trenches. Captain Dodge brought us cheering news that our dispatches reached Bear River safely and would undoubtedly reach Rawlins. We have been counting the hours which it will probably take for relief to reach us. We all agree that General Merritt from Fort Russell with companies of the Fifth cavalry there and all other available troops will be ordered to our rescue, as they will all be needed to finish the campaign.

THE FIELD OF BATTLE

was admirably chosen for defense by the Indians and had it not been for Major Thornburg's advance guard, commanded by Lieutenant Cherry, discovering the ambuscade, the entire command would have been annihilated. He saw a small party of Indians disappear over the hill a half mile in front and at once divided his party to reconnoiter, and only discovered them when he had flanked their position by about two hundred yards. Cherry rode back at full speed with two or three men who were with him and notified Maj. Thornburg, who who already began to descend into the deep ravine, which was intended to engulf the command. The Indians were dismounted and lying down along the crest of the high, steep ridge for a hundred yards from the point where the deadly assault would have commenced. The troops were withdrawn a short distance, dismounted and deployed in line of battle with orders to await the attack of the Indians.

Lieutenant Cherry was here ordered by Thornburg to take a detachment of fifteen picked men and make a reconnoissance and communicate, if possible, with the Indians, as it was thought they only desired to oppose his approach to their agency and would parley or have a big talk if they could be communicated with. Cherry with his men from the right flank and noticed a like movement of about twenty Indians from the left of the Indian position. He approached to within a couple of hundred yards of the Indians and took off his hat and waved it, but the respose was a shot fired at him which wounded a man of his party and killed his horse. This was the first shot and was instantly followed by a volley from the Indians.

The work had now begun in real earnest, and seeing the advantage of the position he held, Cherry dismounted his detachment and deployed along the crest of the hill to prevent the Indians from flanking his position or to cover retreat if found necessary to retire upon the wagon train which was then coming up slowly guarded by Lieutenant Paddock of Company D, Fifth cavalry. Orders were sent and cover them with the company guarding them. The two companies in advance were Captain Payne, company F, Fifth cavalry, and Captain Lawson, company E, Third cavalry, which were dismounted and deployed as skirmishers, Captain Payne on the left and Captain Lawson on the right from Cherry's position. He could see that the Indians were trying to cut him off from the wagons and at once sent word to Major Thornburg, who then withdrew his line slowly, keeping the Indians in check until opposite the point which his men held, when seeing that the Indians were concentrating to cut off his retreat. Captain Payne with company F, Fifth cavalry was ordered to charge the hill, which he did in a gallant style, his horse being shot from under him and several of his men wounded.

MERRITT'S MANEUVERS.

RAWLINS, October 8.—The courier from Payne's camp brings the following account of the arrival of relief. He reports General Merrit as on his approach to Payne's camp and when only a few miles distant from it, discovered the hostile Utes filing out from neighboring canyons. The Indians discovered Merritt at the same moment and the General perceiving this from their actions ordered his men to fall back in rapid retreat. The Indians were encouraged by this maneuver to rush out from their hiding place, and Merritt pushing his troops to a run drew them out on an open plain, he then gave order to wheel, which his men did with admirable precision, showing in a minute a bristling front where it before had been seemingly a straggling rout. The General did not wait for the foe to attack them. In less than two minutes his men poured into the Utes, which checked their advance, and forced them to seek every available cover.

The battle lasted but a few hours, during which time the Indians suffered a loss of thirty-seven killed, while Merritt did not lose a man. The Utes got such a severe drubbing that they

in token of their wish for a parley. This was granted by General Merritt, and several chiefs entered his camp forthwith. Several of the chiefs were willing to surrender, the others were not. Merritt told them that if they would give up their arms and ponies he would do nothing more with them for the present. One or two chiefs asked whether Merritt intended to go to the agency. He replied that he did. After a brief consultation all the chiefs agreed to a common answer which was that if the United States soldiers invaded their reservation they

WOULD FIGHT THEM UNTIL THE LAST

of the Utes lay dead. After this they left Merritt's camp and returned to the canyons.

General Merritt then pushed forward with all haste and joined Payne with a remnant of Thornburg's command. The same Monday evening before Merritt's arrival Payne had been most gallantly of forty-five men of the Ninth cavalry under Captain Dodge. His company came down Bear river past Steamboat Springs last Friday night, and learning of Thornburg's fight and Payne's situation, resolved to get to Payne's side at every hazard. In their attempt they were met by the besieging Utes who turned upon them with a fire so hot that they were compelled to dismount. In the course of a subsequent engagement this brave colored company lost every horse but two. Merritt on his arrival found that Payne had held out splendidly, losing only two men since the 29th when Rankin left.

The Indians having been driven from this point a company was rallied on the wagon train. Major Thornburg then gave orders to and cover Captain Lawson's retreat, who was ordered to fall back slowly with the horses of his company. Cherry called for volunteers of twenty men, who responded promptly and fought with desperation. Their names will be given in a later dispatch, as nearly every man was wounded before he reached camp, and two men killed. Cherry brought every wounded man in with him. Captain Lawson, a brave old veteran, displayed the greatest calmness and courage during this retreat, sending up ammunition to Cherry's men when once they were nearly without it. Major Thornburg started back to the wagon train after giving his final orders to Captain Payne to charge the hill, and to Captain Lawson and Cherry to cover the retreat.

THORNBURG MUST HAVE BEEN SHOT SHOT DEAD.

when barely halfway; there his body is being seen lying on its face. Payne then gave command to set about having wounded horses shot for breastworks. Dismantling wagons of boxes, bundles, etc., which were piled up for fortifications, picks and shovels were used vigorously for digging entrenchments. In the meantime the galling fire was concentrated upon the command from all the surrounding bluffs which commanded the position. Not an Indian could be seen but the incessant cracks of their Sharp's and Winchester rifles which dealt most fearful destruction among horses and men. The groans of the dying and the agonizing cries of the wounded told what

A FEARFUL HAVOC WAS BEING MADE,

among the determined and desperate command. The Indians at the beginning of the fight had set fire to the dry grass and the sage brush and to the windward of our position. It now came sweeping down toward us, the flames leaping high into the air and immense columns of smoke rolling on to engulf us. It was a sight to make the stoutest heart quake, and the fiends were waiting ready to give us a volley as soon as we were driven from our shelter. Now it reaches the flank and blankets, blouses and empty sacks were freely used to extinguish the flames. Some of the wagons were set on fire which required all the force possible to smother it. No water can be obtained and the smoke is suffocating, but the fire passes and we still hold our position.

MEANTIME A CONSTANT VOLLEY

is poured upon us. Captain Payne is wounded for the second time and the First Sergeant Dolan, company F., killed instantly. McKinstry and McKee were killed and many others wounded. The men have now mostly covered themselves, but the poor horses and mules are constantly falling about us. Just about sundown a charge was attempted, but repulsed. The Indians were trying to drive off some of our horses, which had broken loose. The attack ceased at dark and soon every man was at work enlarging the trenches, hauling out dead horses, caring for wounded, and burying the dead. At daylight the attack was resumed and the firing of sharpshooters has been kept up every day since and occasionally at nights, sending us to our pits in a scramble.

THIS IS THE FIFTH DAY.

of our siege but we are determined to hold out if it takes a month for succor to reach us; but we are confident that General Merritt, whose name is upon the lips of everyone, is on the road to rescue us. As I write this bullets are whistling over the top of our trenches. They often strike the grain sacks a few inches above our heads, but we are deep enough to be comparatively safe.

Killed: Major Thornburg, First Sergeant John Dolan: Privates, John Burns, Michael Fereton, Samuel McKee, Thomas Mooney, Michael Lynch, Charles Wright, Dominick Cuff and wagon master McKinzie and teamster McGuire.

Wounded—Captain Payne, flesh wound in the arm and side; Lieutenant Paddock, flesh wound in the hip; Dr. Grimes, flesh wound in the shoulder; Sergeant John Morrill; trumpeter Fred Sutcliffe, trumpeter John McDonald, privates James T. Clark, Orlando Durand, Thomas Ferguson, Thomas Lewis, Edward Lavelle; Willard Nutchell John Mahoney, Joseph Patterson, William Schuber, Thomas McNamara Budka, John Donovan; Quartermasters, Thomas Cain and Nelson, and guide Lowrie. With the exception of the wound of guide Lowrie the wounds of the above named men are not serious.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

THE INDIAN BUREAU AND ITS RED ELEPHANT.

'No Blame Can be Laid at Our Doors," is the Expression of the Bureau Officials.

Baltimore Sun, 8th.

WASHINGTON, October 7.—The Indian bureau has commenced the preparation of a succinct history of the Indian troubles, and will include in it an exhibit of the work accomplished by its agents, and also set forth the views of the bureau as to the leading causes of the present outbreak. The bureau officials are strong in the expression of the opinion that no blame can be laid at their doors. Intimations have been thrown out that the Indian office had information which it ought to have communicated to the military, but this is denied with emphasis. As is usual where there is divided responsibility, it may be expected that the two departments will endeavor to shift whatever shortcomings there may have been in the matter on each other. A dispatch from Assistant Postmaster-General Tyner announced his arrival at Chicago last night, and that he would leave there to-night for Washington. General Tyner and his party had an escort of six soldiers. They had no idea of any danger until the scout who had been sent to warn them rode into their camp. They had intended to stay several days longer, but after what they heard thought it best to return.

Louisiana Democratic Convention.

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 8.—The Democratic State Convention completed the State ticket as follows: Lieutenant Governor, S. D. McEnery, of Ouchahita; Attorney General, J. C. Eagan, of Claibone; Secretary of State, William A. Strong, of Winn; Auditor, Allen Jumel, of Iberville and Superintendent Education, E. Hay, of East East Feliciana. The platform recommends the adoption of the new constitution and declares for a free ballot and denounces the elevation of Hayes and Wheeler to the Presidency and Vice-Presidency as a crime against the freedom of the people. It calls for the admission of Spofford to the Senate and eulogize Governor Nicholls for his great service to the State and the Democratic Conservative party. Adjourned

From Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 8.—One new case was reported, Charles McAvee. W. T. Boyle died early this morning. Weather clear and cool. Dr. Ess who went on a special train to investigate the report of yellow fever at Wythe depot, returned to-night sick. The person is W. B. Stewart, a school teacher, who was taken ill yesterday. His symptoms were very suspicious. Two deaths from fever occurred in the same house last year, one of them dying on a feather bed, the one on which Stewart now lies ill. Dr. Wynne with a nurse remained at Wythe to await further developments of the case.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 8.—Noon.—No more cases were reported. The undertakers report four interments since last night. Mrs. Mary E. Key, Miss Maggie Key. Willie McCassey and Adolph Wolbercht.

The following telegram, was received to-day from Harrison station, Miss., October 8th. Three of one family are dead and another sick with the yellow fever symptoms. Send Howard physicians and nurse immediately.

Harrison station is seventy miles south of Memphis. Howards send physician and nurses by a special train.

Western Union.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Western Union Telegraph Company was held to-day and directors chosen. The President's report shows the capital stock of the company $41,073,410, of which there was in the treasury belonging to the company at the beginning of the year $6,009,135; from this there was distributed to the stockholders $5,960,608, leaving an amount in the treasury of $44,227, and the amount outstanding on the 30th of June, 1879, $41,029,183, surplus of net revenue $1,593,889.72, from which there was appropriated for construction and other purposes $820,620.77, making a balance of $4,269,778.33.

Pistol Practice.

HARRISONBURG, Va., October 8.—Ex-Mayor Joseph P. Hyde was shot on the street last night by ex-Chief of Police Joseph H Kelly, One ball entered his right shoulder from behind and another passed across his abdomen, producing a slight flesh wound. Kelly fled.

Jewett and the Western Union.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—It is stated in financial circles that President Jewett will be elected director of the Western Union Telegraph Company at the annual election to-day in place of Cornelius Vanderbilt, who retires. It is considered part of the management for a change in the direction of the Erie Railway.

Defaulting Book-keeper.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—Robert W. Steele, book-keeper for Isaac Smiths, Son & Company, umbrella manufacturers, is reported to have disappeared with $60,000. The said firm were obliged to suspend on account of their loss, and are endeavoring to effect a compromise with their creditors.

Their Last Dance.

CHATTANOOGA, October 8.—Two negroes, Tom Jones and Bill Rearson, who had confessed to the murder of Dick Woods, storekeeper on the line of the Cincinnati Southern railroad, were seized last night and hanged from the bridge at White's Creek.

Colorado Republicans.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 8.—The election for Supreme Court Judge and county officers passed off quietly, and the indications are that the Republicans carried everything.

Suicide of a Southern Boy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Frank Heyward, who committed suicide in Twenty-first street yesterday, was the son of Henry Heyward, well known in South Carolina.

Tenders have been invited for the construction of one hundred and thirty miles of the British Columbia branch of the Canada Pacific railway, between Yale and Kamloops. It appears from this that the government has adopted the Burrard Inlet route.

A joint discussion of the State debt question took place Tuesday at Hicksford, Va., between Hon. John Goode and R. W. Arnold, readjuster, before an immense crowd. Both speakers tested the strength of the crowd, and the majority favored a settlement of the debt on the McCulloch bill basis.

Judge Stuart, of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, Va., yesterday refused to admit Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood to practice as a lawyer in his court. He said it was contrary to the spirit and policy of the State institutions for a woman to hold public office, and he would not admit them unless the Legislature, in express terms, or the Court of Appeals required it.

About two weeks ago David Long, a poor man, living near North Lebanon, Pa., died of what was pronounced typhoid fever. As it now appears that there was about $20,000 insurance upon his life in various companies held by a number of citizens, a suspicion of another Raber murder case has arisen, and his body is to be exhumed.

A mob of five hundred men surrounded the jail at Janesville, Wis., at 2 A. M. Monday, for the purpose of seizing and lynching Baumgarten, the murderer of Sandy Whittle. The sheriff had been warned of ther approach, however, and got away with the prisoner. The mob dispersed after fruitlessly searching the jail.

The trial of Joseph A. Blair for the murder of his coachman, John Armstrong, was begun at Newark, N. J., Monday. A servant girl testified to hearing loud swearing from Armstrong, to seeing Blair get a pistol from the house, and to hearing two shots, afterwards Blair said he had shot Armstrong.

A meeting of holders of bonds of the city of Mobile, Alabama, was held in New York Monday. The Alabama legislature was denounced for abrogating the tax law of Mobile, and a committee appointed to confer with the Mobile authorities to adjust matters between them and the bondholders.

On Friday night last, near Springfield, Mo., Rev. George Long, a Baptist preacher, and Frank Gaddy were driving heavily laden wagons in opposite directions, and each refusing to give way, a fierce fight ensued, in which the latter had his abdomen ripped open with a large pocket-knife in the hands of the preacher and died several hours after.

A Kicking Horse.

Wilmington Star, 8th.

The greatest excitement that has been witnessed on our streets in a long time was created in the vicinity of Southerland's stable, yesterday afternoon by a kicking horse. Mr. Dan Quinlivin, in attempting to shoe the animal, was badly kicked on the leg. He was determined to conquer the vicious beast, however, and he was finally thrown flat up his back and tied "hog fashion," when the work of shoeing him was successfully performed. Before he was finally subdued he created great diversion among the large crowd by his kicking propensities, in which he excelled anything in the shape of a horse we have ever seen.

Striking Cigar Makers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—One thousand two hundred cigar makers struck yesterday for an advance of two dollars which the employers allowed. The men resumed work.

A TREASURE SHIP.

THE LATEST EFFORT AT THE WRECK OF THE HUSSAR.

Electric Lights to be Used by Divers in Working under the Water---The Searchers Confident of Reward.

New York Star, 6th.

Another attempt is now being made to recover the treasure sunk at Port Morris in the British frigate Hussar. The history of the loss of the British frigate Hussar, in November, 1780, while the war of the Revolution was in progress, is familiar to most readers. The vessel at the time of the disaster had entered Harlem River, having made her way through the Sound and Hell Gate. She had a large number of United States troops as prisoners aboard, and they were chained to the gundeck and went down with the vessel. The frigate had also on board, according to the official British statement, an immense amount of English specie, destined to pay the troops in the field. None of the money was then or since recovered, as far as can be ascertained, and it is supposed that the treasure still lies buried in the hulk of the vessel, which lays in the Harlem River, directly off Port Morris.

A few weeks ago a company styled the Frigate Hussar Company was organized. It consists of a number of business men of this city, and work has been commenced again on the wreck, a special contract as to the division of the proceeds being entered into between the new company and the New England Sub-marine Company, which by reason of its continued labors for the last twenty-four years, claims certain salvage rights under the law. One of the great difficulties experienced in the work is the location of the different parts of the wreck, owing to the depth of the water and its muddy condition, and this difficulty the new company proposes to obviate by the aid of electric lights to be placed in the bed of the river surrounding the hulk.

The electric lights to be used will be contained in large hermetically sealed glasses, and will be lowered into the water with the divers. Several relics from the wreck are in the possession of residents of Port Morris, and are highly valued, among them being bolts, pieces of tubing and leather, and bones from the skeletons of the dead. The bones recovered are believed to be portions of the skeletons of the unfortunate American prisoners who were manacled and lashed to the gun deck when the Hussar went down.

One end of the wreck is completely buried in the mud and sand. It is believed to be the stern of the vessel where the treasure would in all probability be stowed, and is some twenty feet lower down than the prow of the frigate. The new arrangements for the prosecution of the work are more complete than any heretofore initiated. A new water hose has been placed in position, by means of which a stream of water can be operated by the diver while in the bed of the river for the purpose of washing away the mud and sand from the wreck.

Reports that gold has been found are circulated constantly, but Mr. Barnes states that up to the present time they have no foundation in the fact. There are many who incline to the belief that the money invested in the enterprise is absolutely thrown away. The expenses are heavy, amounting to about $75 per day. Six men are constantly employed on the wrecking vessel. "Before the winter sets in," Mr. Barnes remarked, enthusiastically, "I think we shall have something to show for our work.

A Comparison.

Warrenton Gazette.

All intelligent people are aware of the fact that the eastern counties of the State gives more Democratic votes than any other portion of North Carolina. The Radical vote, exclusive of the negroes, is in the center and west. But notwithstanding the fact we poll the largest white vote it is also equally true we have the largest negro vote, which increases radical representatives in the Legislature. A poor little county in the west with its six hundred Conservatives and five hundred Radicals, that does not pay the sheriff mileage and fees in going to Raleigh, sends a Democrat to the Legislature, and he looks down upon such counties as Halifax, Warren and Edgecombe, because they have Radical representatives. He forgets that they and other counties have five times the wealth, pay five times as much taxes and gives several times as many Conservative voters as his own little county of bleak hills. He further forgets that in every general election the Governor, Attorney-General, Secretary of State, Supreme Court Judges, etc., are elected by the Conservatives of the east. While we save the State from Radical clutches, we, of the east, can hardly get from the powers that be an appointment even as director of a railroad, asylum, penitentiary, or any other office so trifling as the above. They treat us as the Radicals do the negroes—glad to use us at election times, but after we vote, have no use for us. We think the east is getting somewhat tired of such treatment and will doubtless let itself be heard from in the next convention.

LATE STATE NOTES.

Franklin Register.

Jesse Carson, Esq., of this county, left a stalk of corn in our office the other day, that measures eighteen feet in length. It has two ears, eleven and twelve feet from the ground. If any one doubts this, let him come and measure for himself.

J. D. Wilder and J. H. Carter, experienced tobacconists, are erecting a warehouse for the sale of leaf tobacco in Asheville.

On Friday last, about sunset, Eliphas Robinson, who lives in Ellijay township, ten miles from this place, attacked his wife, and was beating her unmercifully, when his son, a youth of seventeen years, attempted to prevent his further cruelty to his mother. Robinson then turned on his son and inflicted injuries to such an extent that it was feared he would not recover. Mr. J. K. Williams brought Robinson to town next day, when he had a hearing before H. G. Woodfin, J. P., the evidence being to the effect that Robinson is non compos mentis. He was committed to jail.

The great superiority of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Both Legs Cut Off.

Wilmington Star, 8th.

Passengers on the Carolina Central Road yesterday morning report a terrible accident to a colored fireman in the employ of the Company at Laurinburg. It seems that after cleaning his engine he laid down on the track and went to sleep, and while in this condition the train coming this way ran over him and cut both legs off. He tried to spring to his feet after the accident, and his cries and groans, and frantic actions, as he began to realize the full extent of the horrible misfortune that had befallen him, are represented to have been heart-rending in the extreme. The name of the poor fellow is not known, but he is believed to be a resident of Laurinburg or its vicinity. He was still alive at last accounts.

STATE NEWS.

[Correspondence under this head is furnished by regular contributors to the News.]

WAKE.

WAKE FOREST, Oct. 7.—Our place is somewhat dull of news now. People are generally very busy tending to their labor, such as picking cotton, etc.

There is a great complaint about the depreciation in the price of cotton.

As regards our progress in college affairs, no one can tell much, except those who feel the weight of the number of pages for recitation. We have one hundred and thirty-three students which will hardly be augmented until January. But that is a much greater number than ever before. The new building is going up very slow. I can't see the reason the building committee don't require the contractor to put more workmen on it. It is surely no greater cost to have fifty workmen for one day than to have twenty-five for two. Now this being the case, and as we are greatly in need of it right now, why not finish it at once? The manner in which they are now proceeding will require two years to complete it. Let us have more laborers and get it done by cold weather, or at least by next June.

The report is in circulation in this vicinity that diphtheria is spreading very fast in Raleigh. A number are expressing their fears to attend the coming Fair on account of it. Let us have a clear statement of the facts in the case.

The first senior speaking of the year takes place the 24th inst. The prospects are bright for a gay time. We hope to see a number of visitors from Raleigh.

FRANKLIN.

FRANKLINTON, October 8.—W. H. Jenkins goes to Raleigh to-night as attorney for M. W. & R. S. Jenkins, who have recently been indicted in the United States revenue matter.

While Mr. Benjamin Wright was passing near Mt. Olivet a few days since, a party of ruffians attacked him and but for the interference of Mr. Alexander Evans would have been very badly treated. He escaped unharmed. W.

Gone to Indiana.

Washington Republican.

S. L. Perry and P. C. Williams, the two colored school-teachers from North Carolina, who came to this city to appeal to the Emigrant Aid Society in behalf of a large number of colored families in their State who desire to emigrate to Kansas, left Saturday for Indianapolis. They intend to form a colony in Indiana. They expressed themselves as under many obligations to the people of Washington for their kind treatment during their stay. Owing to a lack of funds the Emigrant Aid Society was unable to extend to them any material assistance.

Tribute of Respect.

At a regular Communication of Archer Lodge, No 165, held on the 4th day of October, 1879, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to take from our midst our beloved brother Past Master W. T. Robertson, who departed this life at his residence in Johnston county on the 15th day of September, 1879, in the 83d year of his age,

Resolved 1st, That we meekly bow with due submission to the will of our Great Grand Master, in taking our brother from this earthly Lodge to the Lodge not made with hands in the heavens.

Resolved 2d, That the death of brother W. T. Robertson is deeply deplored by this Lodge. That in him were concentrated the good devoted Mason, the man of truth and full of charity.

Resolved 3d, That in token of our respect for our deceased brother, we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days; that we send a copy of these resolutions to the family of our brother, spread a copy upon our minutes and send a copy to the Raleigh NEWS for publication.

The Trades Procession.

At a meeting of mechanics and others at the office of the Agricultural Society Tuesday evening, John Armstrong was called to the chair, and Z. T. Broughton was requested to act as secretary.

The committee on speakers reported favorable progress.

The committee on arrangements reported that several additional names had been added to the list of those who wish to join in the procession. Several from Durham and Henderson have notified the committee of their intention to come up with a good display.

The following persons signified their intention to join with their wagons, in addition to the list previously published:

Allen & Cram, machinists; Thomas Stevenson, plumber and gas fitter; J. C. Brewster, hardware and tin and copper smith; S. O. Wilson, nurseryman; A. T. Barnhill, carriage and wagon making; R. T. Bosher, plasterer; J. W. Cole, watchmaker.

Mr. W. J. Weir was appointed Chief Marshal. The Assistant Marshals will be appointed by the Chief and Committee of arrangements.

On motion, it was unanimously adopted, that all mechanics and tradesmen who wish to join in the parade, but who cannot from the nature of their trade, or otherwise, make a display, are invited to join in carriages or otherwise as they may see fit.

A number of suggestions were made as to the manner of fixing up wagons, etc.

On motion it was ordered that no wagons should be allowed representing any burlesque whatever.

On motion, the Chief Marshal and Mr. S. O. Wilson appointed a committee to confer with some farmers as to joining the procession.

Thirty three wagons representing as many different business firms have signified their intention of joining the procession.

On motion it was agreed that if Wednesday be a rainy day, the procession should take place on Thursday.

The Committee of Arrangements and Chief Marshal will hold a meeting at the office of the Secretary of the Society on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

On motion, the meeting adjourned until Monday night next, October 13th.

JOHN ARMSTRONG, Chairman.
Z. T. BROUGHTON, Secretary.

"A Tight Squeeze" is an unfortunate title for a new book. An old maid will never—no, never! enter a book-store and ask a spruce young clerk for "A Tight Squeeze," although she may want one very badly. And a much berufled and banged young lady will hardly ever call for "A Tight Squeeze" so publicly, when she is already squeezed so tight she can hardly draw her breath.

STATE FAIR MATTERS.

AND STILL THE DONATIONS COME POURING IN.

Entries for the Prize Shooting Match ---Exhibitors Making Entries--- No Gambling or Drinking.

The following are donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society for the 19th annual State Fair, at Raleigh, October 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th next. (Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.)

One rifle, given by James Brown & Son, manufacturers, 136 and 138 Wood street, Pittsburg, Pa. This firm own the Enterprise Gun Works, and are large importers of gunsmith's material, fishing tackle, etc. They have been dealing at their old and well known stand for thirty years, and we are glad to have them represented at the Fair.

One selection Ten Star horse, cattle and hog powders, given by A. Rosenthal & Son, 144 E. Lombard street, Baltimore. This adds another article to the list of goods designed to benefit stock. Those interested in raising fine animals will doubtless give them an examination.

One barrel Bridgewater family flour, and one sack white corn meal, given by J. B. Ficklen & Sons, Bridgewater Mills, Fredericksburg, Va. Thanks to these gentlemen for a contribution to our Fair, from a firm which first used the brand "family" as applied to flour, in America. The history of their house reaches back to 1822. They are makers of very beautiful goods, and desire to extend their trade in North Carolina.

One selection Marsh's disinfectant and deodorizer; six quart bottles liquid and one dozen pound boxes in powders, given by Jas. B. Kent, Baltimore, Md. This very meritorious article is in use at Memphis by the Howard Association, and is employed for purposes of disinfecting by the hospitals of Baltimore and other places. It merits the attention which it will doubtless receive.

Four small bladders Scotch snuff. Three pound packages. Three 4 oz. do. One dozen 2 oz. square do. One dozen 2 oz. round do. One dozen 1 oz. square do. One dozen 1 oz. round do. One dozen 2 oz. tin do. One dozen 1 oz. tin do. One dozen ½ oz. tins do. Half dozen 8 oz. bottles do. One dozen 2 oz. bottles do. The above long list of preparations of Scotch snuff are given by R. Starr & Co., 25 S. Calvert St., Baltimore, proprietors of the Baltimore Snuff Mill, and makers of Scotch Rappee, Congress and Maccaboy.

THE SHOOTING MATCHES.

The shooting for the champion flag by the teams from the various companies of the State Guard promises to be interesting and exciting.

The Secretary received yesterday official notice that the Hornets' Nest Rifles of Charlotte will be represented.

We have recently published the visit of the team of the Kinston Rifles to enter the lists.

Captain E. R. Page, of Company C, 1st Regiment, New Berne, N.C., has notified the Secretary that his company will send up a team. C. R. Hancock will be captain of the team.

We presume our military authorities will be on the qui vive. Who will carry off the flag this year?

All premiums in the Target Practice at the Fair last year were promptly paid except a rifle due to a member of the handsome Company from Plymouth. That failed to come to hand owing to difficulties in business and subsequent assignment of the house which promised it. The Secretary has however, secured a fine rifle from another house, which will be duly delivered during the Fair.

FAIR NOTES.

The office of the Secretary was crowded all day yesterday with exhibitors making entries. Citizens of Raleigh are respectfully requested to call early and make their entries to avoid the crowd and delay at the Fair grounds. Call at the office over Battle & Mordecai's law office at any time from 8 A. M. until 5:30 P. M.

Major Gulick was busy yesterday making preparations to receive a train at the Fair grounds to-morrow with exhibits and donations, and assigning stalls for live stock. Those interested in exhibiting stock for the liberal premiums this year should apply at once to secure choice commodious stalls.

Representatives of houses abroad exhibiting or making donations should call at the Secretary's office.

Members of the press on arriving at the Fair grounds are invited to report at the office of the Secretary. They are the especial guests of the Society on the grounds and will be warmly welcomed by the committee and officers.

It should be understood as heretofore no games of chance, and no sale of ardent spirits will be allowed on the Fair grounds under any pretense whatsoever.

Large sums of money have been offered for these privileges, and the examples of the Fairs at Atlanta, Columbia, and other points pleaded as precedents, but the committee have declined all offers of the kind, from every portion of the country, being determined to keep the State Fair, as it ought to be, a popular and delightful retreat for the best portion of our population. This statement is especially published in view of an erroneous publication yesterday in regard to the sale of liquors.

The Indian's Strange Idea.

Philadelphia Times.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the true nobility of the red man is his unnatural disposition to fight for his rights. He has the strangest kind of idea that the white men ought not to steal his land, and the government begins to despair of being able to teach him any better unless the army is increased to more than twenty-five thousand men.

The Grave of General Morgan.

The Winchester (Va.,) News states that a plan has been set on foot there for obtaining from Congress an appropriation of $5,000 with which to erect a monument to the memory of that grand old revolutionary soldier, General Daniel Morgan, the hero of the Cowpens. The remains of General Morgan now lie in Mt. Hebron Cemetery, Winchester, and the slab which once covered the tomb is now nearly all chipped off and been carried away by relic hunters.

DAILY NEWS

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE colored company of the Ninth Cavalry, under the leadership of Captain Dodge, made a splendid fight to reach Lieutenant Payne's command, which shows that they make good soldiers under good commanders.

THERE are many people throughout the land who have read the effusions of the sweet girl poets, Elaine and Dora H. Goodale, and who will condole with them in the loss of their father, who was recently murdered by a tramp. A harmless, inoffensive gentleman, it seems strange that the laws of Massachusetts could not protect him. If it had happened in the South——

WOULDN'T it be odd if the Democrats should run Lucius Robinson for the Presidency? His availability, like Horace Greeley's, consists in the fact that he is a renegade Republican. He fought the Democracy in the Free-Soil movement and all through the War, and now he is a standard-bearer because he fought it.—Chicago Tribune.

This shows that the Democratic party is progressive. And yet the Tribune has been belaboring the party on account of its inability to get out of the old track.

THE Democrats are now specially happy. The skeleton of our army has proved its incompetency to cope with the Utes, and hence they accept this as an argument in favor of the further reduction of its force. These Democrats are patriots and statesmen on the back-action principle.—Washington Republican.

Take the 5,000 clerks and the 800 servants and thus form six full regiments, and there will be enough troops to take care of the Indians. But then Republican Indian agents and contractors would starve, and such a thing is not to be thought of. These Republicans are patriots and statesmen on the grab principle.

IN the history of nations and of parties, of men,—barbarous, civilized or savage—there is no record of a moral and physical cowardice that will compare in shamelessness to that which the Northern Democracy of the United States have shown and are now showing in the presence and under the eye of the slave holders, the rebels and traitors, the murderers of men, women and helpless children, and of the yellow-fever breeders who live in the late slaveholding States.—Chicago Tribune.

And a Republican judge of Illinois, residing in the city of Chicago, whether actuated by mock heroism or cowardice—it makes little difference, the terms are synonymous—decided that an armed rabble had the right to parade the streets and shoot down women and children at a picnic. Oh, virtuous Chicago!

THE country will be shocked at the intelligence of the calamity which on Monday last befell a body of United States troops under command of Major Thornburg, a gallant officer of the Fourth Infantry, who was assigned to lead a force to reduce to peaceful submission the Ute Indians, who had risen in revolt against the Government agent at White River Agency.—Chicago Tribune.

The country had no reason to be shocked, for wasn't the gallant Sheridan in Chicago asserting that an Indian outbreak was not to be expected in the nature of things, for hadn't he lifted up his mighty voice and told the tribes to behave themselves? No, it didn't shock the country much more than did the heroic exploit of "Piegan Phil.," when he spread the small pox among the Piegans by means of infected robes and blankets. But then that was no crime against humanity; it was only a saving to the Government by ridding it of the "Nation's wards."

THE assistant postmaster at Rogersville, Kansas, writes to the Postmaster General that the p stoffice at that point will have to be discontinued, as "I consider it unsafe for me to attend to the duties of the office without protection." This postmaster was attacked by a band of desperadoes the other day in his office, and in trying to defend himself shot his own brother. We commend this case to the attention of our Republican fellow-citizens, who are continually telling of the safety of individuals in Northern States. It looks very badly when a postoffice in a strong Republican State has to be abandoned because the postmaster is liable to be shot at any time through the delivery window. Still he might have adopted the plan of Nix, the Blackville postmaster, hand out the mail with one hand and point a revolver with the other.

ON the first page will be found the graphic details of the Milk River battle. The account shows that Major Thornburg acted with prudence, and that the fight could not be avoided. The Indians are thoroughly aroused and, as they declared to General Merritt, are resolved to fight until every Ute is killed. This is no idle threat; it means work, and of the hardest kind, for the troops. Captain Jack and his fifty Modocs cost the Government an immense sum before he was captured. The Utes are full as brave and six times as strong as Captain Jack's band, and the country is fully as bad as the lava beds of California. Had it not been for Major Thornburg's prudence his command would have been annihilated, and the outlying settlements harried; Dodge's command would have met the same ate, and the Indians have increased their store of ammunition.

BUY WHAT YOU NEED AT HOME.

We have endeavored from time to time, to the best of our ability, to impress upon the minds of our people the advantages of home trading, but the belief that a person can do so much better in a foreign market is so strong that it is hard to eradicate it. Now we ask our readers to consider what other people think of the matter. The following is from the Washington Republican:

The question of trading at home lies at the bottom of all local prosperity. The city of Washington has its enterprising, upright and trustworthy merchants, manufacturers and traders, but their prosperity and success depend largely upon the sense of justice and liberality of the people who surround them and upon whom they must depend for legitimate success. They have just claims upon this business. They are citizens, own property, pay taxes, employ labor, contribute largely to the support of transportation, and are intimately identified with the general business prosperity and welfare of the city. If, instead of getting trusted at home when short of money, and going to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York for supplies when they have money, our citizens would spend every dollar in home trade among our merchants, mechanics, manufacturers and artisans, our people would all be much more prosperous and wealthy than they now are. The merchants would build finer stores and residences; our manufacturers would extend their facilities and give wider employment. All the money expended, except that devoted to the purchase of goods, goes to consumers, who spend it for the necessaries of life among the merchants and traders, and thus it keeps in constant circulation, yielding some profit to all through whose hands it passes. Of every dollar spent among ourselves a portion returns to the very hands that set it afloat, so intimately are all our business interests connected and ramified.

NEW ENGLAND AND THE SOUTH.

New England is waking up to the fact that the South is steadily looking to its manufacturing interests. The Springfield Republican says:

The Southern papers are considerably rejoiced that the consumption of their cotton-mills increased 26 per cent during the past year and of mills at the North but 2 per cent. The whole consumption, 186,489 bales South and 1,375,384 North, was the largest ever known, though British consumption in the same time was smaller than in any previous year since 1869-70. The South is certain to manufacture still more of its cotton during the next two years, and the general introduction of northern Alabama coal, which is rapidly, driving Pittsburg coal from the lower Mississippi, is helping on the gradual establishment of cotton-mills in that section.

Twenty five years ago the Northern States were dotted all over with small woolen factories. Now the small ones have disappeared, the manufacturing being in the hands of large corporations who have located their factories in the most advantageous places for their trade. The cotton factories in the North are also in the hands of large corporations who have received large returns for their investments—or rather would, had it not been for thieving managers.

Throughout the South small cotton factories are starting up, even as did the small woolen mills of the North; but capital has not been abundant, and necessarily the operations have been conducted on a small scale. But as the wealth of our people naturally increases these operations will be enlarged, and instead of shipping immense quantities of raw cotton abroad we shall need it for home manufacture. The time is rapidly approaching when all this fair Southern land will be alive to the hum of our manufacturing machinery; when our railroads will be freighted with the products of Southern looms; when our population will be increased by industrial operatives of all classes. It is evident that the Northern mill owners see this result clearly, and fear it. It may be for this reason that they and their organs have so steadily circulated the reports that life and property are not safe south of Mason and Dixon's line. For a time these statements had a serious and damaging effect on the South, as they frightened away capitalists and settlers; but at the present time their force seems to have been expended; they may do for a political campaign cry, but that is all. It is clear to the minds of business men that cotton goods can be produced so much cheaper at the spot where the raw fabric is raised that the advantages will not be overlooked. The Northern mills must in time be abandoned as non-paying. Then will commence the race for control of this vast business in the South; but if the Southern capitalist conducts his affairs with shrewdness he will be so far ahead with an established business that his Northern competitor will fail to overtake him.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Friends of General Hancock propose to establish at Washington next winter the headquarters of a committee to promote his nomination for President by the Democrats next year.

The Greenback National Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President has been called to meet at St. Louis on the 8th day of January next.

The New York Star (Tammany organ) has an altogether improbable story to the effect that Mr. Tilden has bought stock in the New York Times to the extent of $210,000, and that the Times is to work hereafter in the interest of Mr. Tilden.

Henry Evans, Republican ex-councilman of Wilmington, Del., who has contested the election of James Carmichael, Democrat, to the council, was arrested Saturday on five charges of libel, preferred by persons whom he alleged to be illegal voters. He was held in $5,000 bail in each case.

Consistent.

Macon Telegraph.

Mr. Hayes has been kind enough recently to give his opinion as to who the Democrats should nominate for President. He thinks it should be be either Pendleton or Thurman. He also thinks Tilden would not do at any price. Whereupon the Chicago Times observes: "Hayes doesn't want Tilden elected next year. Well, Hayes is consistent. He didn't want Tilden elected in 1876."

A Sensible Suggestion.

It is very clear that sooner or later this country has got to have a kind of Indian who won't get mad when a white man steals his lands.

Sunday in New York.

Correspondence of the News.

NEW YORK, October 7.—To-day was spent somewhat after the following manner, viz.: Our first visit was to Dr. John Hall's Sunday school (55th street and 5th Avenue) which numbers some four hundred and fifty scholars, after which we listened to a capital sermon from that noble divine, from Psalm cxviii, "Open to me the gates of righteousness, and I will go in and will praise the Lord. His mercy endureth forever." Dr. Hall is a very large man, strong full voice, clear, intelligent, bright, sharp eyes, and preaches solid gospel and nofancy only. Would advise all Southerners to hear him and see his magnificent church, school room and lecture room. It is said there were two thousand one hundred persons at the morning service. Here we met the Misses Long, of Guilford, who are here attending normal school, and Rev. D. R. Bruton, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Greensboro, N. C. Right here (55d street) is the finest church building in the United States, viz: St. Patrick's Cathedral, which occupies a whole city square, is built of marble only, has been in course of building now twenty years, and will take fifteen years more to finish, has now cost over $3,000,000, and is the grandest with al in and out ever witnessed by any of our party. The main spire will be three hundred and thirty feet high, and two others each two hundred and ninety, and three others of less height. It costs $80 for each night lighted for the gas. These facts I gathered from one of the officials. Your readers can now have but a faint idea of the reality of such an immense building and all its apartments. At 2:30 o'clock I went to the Five Points House of Industry and mission school, which stands to-day proudly the educator of destitute children, upon the site of an old distillery and brewery. At present there are over three hundred of these children receiving charitable instructions, they are taught arts of industry, day school, Sabbath school; and how beautifully they sing and recite. Established in 1851, it has had under its roof thirty-one thousand children, twenty-two thousand of which have lived in the institution. Many have grown up and gone out into the world good men and women. Mr. Mills, take courage. I thought of your little band and the good you have done at Oxford, and the hearts you have made glad. As usual at night, Dr. Deems' Church of the Strangers was sought, and what a fine congregation and what singing. His subject on personal responsibility was well handled. W. S. M.

LIVER PILLS

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated. Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S L[IVER] P[ILLS]. Also DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

The Listening Oak.

She found the old familiar spot,
Beneath the green oak tree;
She sighed—she sighed—"He loves me not,
And I'm alone—ah me!"
He watched her there—the fond old oak—
For trees have ears like other folk;
It whispered, whispered, "Hearts may roam,
But late or early Love comes home!"

He stood where they so oft had met,
He flung away her flower;
"Ah me!" he cried, "Coquette, coquette!
To love me but an hour!"
But loudly sang the angry oak,
For trees have hearts like other folk;
And chiding, chiding was the song,
"The heart that loves believes no wrong!"

There's that lovel one stealing on apace,
And some one's arms thrown wide,
And some one's heart is some one's place
At happy even-tide
The tears, the doubts are gone, are gone,
And gaily now the oak looks on,
And sings to them of joy and rest,
"The love that's tried is happiest!"

Queen Victoria positively declines to bang her hair.

Women are still employed in the coal mines of Belgium.

The University in Sydney, Australia, is to be opened to women.

The true gentlewoman causes all to feel perfectly at ease in her presence.

Widows in the State of Nevada are exempt from taxation to the extent of $1,000.

The Pacific coast is now having a woman suffrage movement for a change.

Women are archers by nature. The bent of their inclinations is to bend beaux.

In France it is not considered proper to display young marriageable girls at weddings.

If a girl wants to get married, she generally says so to her popper.—New York Mail.

There were eight hundred and thirty-five notable works of art exhibited by the lady artists in London of a recent exhibition.

"It's naughty, but it's 'ice," she said as she sat down on the pavement and displayed her hosiery.

Thousands of women have painfully observed that marriage means fewer excursions and less ice cream.

An exchange asserts that "girls are the most expert telegraphers along the line of the Pennsylvania road."

A law has been passed in Sweden giving to married women undivided control of their property and earnings.

The women of Rome have complexions like wax, which are very lovely by gaslight, but unhealthy looking by day.

If the women of this country would get along without ribbons, they would save $14,500,000 per year to help the men purchase cigars.

Women would never do for assessors. One couldn't be induced to rate her neighbor's new grand piano as worth over two dollars.

That touching and beautiful song, "Oh, Stay With Me, My Darling, Stay," is supposed to have been dedicated by a young lady to her corsets.

Mrs. Gladstone has opened a home for business girls in London. The establishment will accommodate twenty-five young women, who will be expected to pay according to their means.

The world would be just as well off without women. Nobody ever Mrs. a girl, and who would Miss or who ever has Mr. married woman?—St. Louis Times-Journal.

When a woman becomes a mother she should take a ferry boat trip. By watching the wheels paddle the water she may learn the proper method of bringing up children.—Phil. Record.

Lydia Thompson travels with twenty-five trunks. In order to dispel any erroneous impression that may be conveyed by this statement we will add that she wears one pair and carries the other two dozen in her valise.—St. Louis Times-Journal. And having thus snugly condensed her baggage, its seldom chemises a train.—New York News.

The stalwart baggage smasher,
In railroad cars and stages,
On trunks and bags and boxes
Now vents his furious rages;
And many a belle, returning
From mountain or salt water,
Beholds her choicest dresses
All given up to slaughter.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines.—Exchange. See another column.

Rosadalis

THE GREAT SUFFERER remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scrofulous Taint, Rheumatism, White Swelling Gout, Goitre, Consumption, Bronchitis, Nervous Debility and all diseases arising from an impure condition of the Blood.

The merits of this valuable preparation are so well known that a passing notice is but necessary to remind the readers of this journal of the necessity of always having a bottle of this medicine among their stock of family necessities

Certificates can be presented from many leading Physicians Ministers, and heads of families throughout the South, ending in the highest terms The Fluid Extract of Rosadalis.

Dr. R. WILLIAM CARR, of Baltimore says he has used it in cases of Scrofula and other diseases with much satisfaction.

DR. J. C. PUGH, of Baltimore, recommends it to all persons suffering with diseased Blood, saying it is superior to any preparation he has ever used.

REV. DABNEY BALL, of the Baltimore M. E. Conference South, says he is so much benefited by its use that he cheerfully recommends it to all his friends and acquaintances.

CRAVEN & CO., Druggists, of Gordonsville, Va., says it never has failed to give satisfaction.

Samuel G. McFadden, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, says it cured him of Rheumatism when all else failed.

Rosadalis is not a secret quack preparation, its ingredients are published on every package. Show it to your Physician and he will tell you it is composed of the strongest alteratives that exist, and is an excellent blood purifier. Did our space admit we could give you testimonials from every State in the South and from persons known to every man, woman and child either personally or by reputation.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

TUTT'S PILLS

SYMPTOMS OF A
TORPID LIVER.

Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Pain in the Head, with a dull sensation in the back part, Pain under the shoulder-blade, fullness after eating, with a disinclination to exertion of body or mind, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, with a feeling of having neglected some duty, Weariness, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, Yellow Skin, Headache generally over the right eye, Restlessness with fitful dreams, Highly colored Urine.

IF THESE WARNINGS ARE UNHEEDED, SERIOUS DISEASES WILL SOON BE DEVELOPED.

TUTT'S PILLS are especially adapted to such cases, one dose effects such a change of feeling as to astonish the sufferer.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. If the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

Dr. I. Guy Lewis, Lafayette, Ark., says:
"After a practice of 25 years, I pronounce TUTT'S PILLS the best anti-bilious medicine ever made."

Rev. F. R. Osgood, New York, says:
"I have had Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach and Nervousness. I never had any medicine to do me so much good as TUTT'S PILLS. They are as good as represented."

Office 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE.

GRAY HAIR OR WHISKERS changed to a GLOSSY BLACK by a single application of this DYE. It imparts a Natural Color, acts instantaneously, and is as harmless as spring water. Sold by Druggists, or sent by express on receipt of $1.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

MILLS, &c.

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me by M. McGhee and wife, of Person county, N. C., and registered in the Register's books of said county, book W, page 270, &c., I will sell, at public auction, on the 3d day of November next, upon the premises, the following property:

1st. A large and valuable Mill, 40x50 feet and four stories high. It has two Corn Mills and two Wheat Mills, driven by one turbine and two overshot wheels. Its capacity for strong wheat is from six to seven thousand bushels. There is a Saw Mill, Cotton Gin, Miller's House and Workshop attached.

2d. A new Store House, 26x40 fee , and Lot connected therewith, upon which Lot there is a Lumber House and Blacksmith Shop.

3d. The Land known as the Woodburn Tract consisting of some 1,200 acres. The Land is divided into convenient tracts all well watered, and in a due proportion of wood. To each tract one there is attached a body of excellent grounds, and upon all but one there are buildings, some of them very valuable. A survey of each tract will be exhibited on day of sale, and the lands shown together with the surveys, to any person making application to the undersigned at any time before the day of sale.

4th. A valuable Library.

5th. The crops of corn, wheat, tobacco, fodder and oats. Also, Teams and Plantation Implements.

TERMS—The Real Estate upon the terms of one-third cash, one-third in one year and one-third cash, one-third in one year and deferred payments from the day of sale until paid, and the other property and effects for cash.

Died.

At 5 P. M. yesterday October 8th, Annie Cornelia, daughter of N. B. and Carrie R. Broughton, aged two years, eleven months and eight days. The funeral will take place at the residence of the parents on Person street, between Martin and Davie, at 4 P. M. to-day (Thursday).

Appreciated.

We are glad to know that the teachers of North Carolina appreciate the effort of Major Moore to furnish them with a good "School History of North Carolina." Many teachers have already introduced the book. Our State is now nearly three centuries old and Major Moore's book is the first complete history of the State ever prepared for the use of our children.

For the Fever Sufferers.

A few days ago the young ladies of Keyser, Moore county, gave a dime party for the benefit of the fever sufferers at Memphis, and raised the sum of $28.05, which was handed to Mr. T. M. Fleming, of the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line, who turned it over to Mayor Manly to be sent to the proper destination. This action on the part of the young ladies is attributed to the efforts of Miss Edith Spear.

Police Court.

His Honor Mayor Manly presiding. George Cross, drunk and disorderly, consigned to the secret shades of the station house for twelve hours.

Jake Moore and Henry Haywood charged with an affray, contributed $7.25 each to the city treasury.

A party charged with an assault was bound over to court.

Justice's Court.

Justice Barbee presiding.

Jacob Williams, colored, was before this justice yesterday charged with abandonment of wife. The case was heard and judgment suspended on payment of costs, the defendant being required to give a $50 bond to keep the peace.

Aaron Young and Jennie Bell were up on a charge of trespass. Judgment for one penny and costs. Costs was afterwards remitted.

The arrest of a party charged with bastardy was also ordered.

A New Berne Industry.

It is not every one that has the means to indulge in ceramics, for this luxury costs much money; but yet there is scarcely a lady, young or old, in the land but that likes to surround herself with art-work of some kind, and those that cannot purchase costly articles must perforce content themselves with something within the scope of their ability to buy. About as neat an article for those who cannot purchase costly panels, plagues, tile work, or china receivers, will find a neat substitute in the wooden ware manufactured by J. T. Matthews, of New Berne, who is now turning out about two hundred thousand wooden plates weekly. These plates are made of maple, gum or holly, are cut very thin, and are single, double and three-ply. These are polished and beautifully ornamented, and then the surface is enameled. They form pretty card receivers, fruit plates, etc., and for this use, as the orders show, just now are fashion's favorites. Mr. Matthews will have a large exhibit at the Fair next week, when all will have a chance to judge for themselves.

The Reward Claimed.

The German Government offered a reward for the discovery of a cure for Bright's Disease, which had baffled the skill, not only of the German doctors, but of doctors the world over. The cure is found, its name is Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and H. H. Warner & Co. claim the reward.

A Well-Known American Author.

Referring to his own complete restoration to health through the use of "Compound Oxygen," after many years of invalidism and exhaustion from over-work. T. S. Arthur, the well known American author, says, in his Home Magazine, under date of February, 1878: "Drs. Starkey and Palen are physicians in regular standing, of high personal character, and above the suspicion of quackery or pretense. A new curative agent has come into their possession, and their administration of it, so far, has resulted in restoring to health many who had regarded their ailments as incurable, and in giving back a good measure of health to a large number of invalids who had vainly sought for help through other means of cure." The testimony of others as well known to the public will be found in our Treatise on the Nature, Action, and Results of "Compound Oxygen." It is mailed free. Address, DRS. Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient, without nausea.

Rev. B F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by Pescud, Lee & Co., and Williams & Haywood.

BUSINESS REMOVAL.

Having removed from my old rooms over TUCKER'S STORE to the Store on Hargett Street

One door East of Rosenbaum's Clothing House, I would respectfully announce to my former customers that I am now much better prepared to serve them in the capacity of Merchant Tailor.

Being more conveniently located and occupying a well arranged store my facilities will thereby be greatly increased.

I am now in receipt of the largest and most varied selection of samples for Fall and Winter SUITINGS ever brought to this market, and I am confident I can render better satisfaction to my patrons than I have heretofore been able to do.
